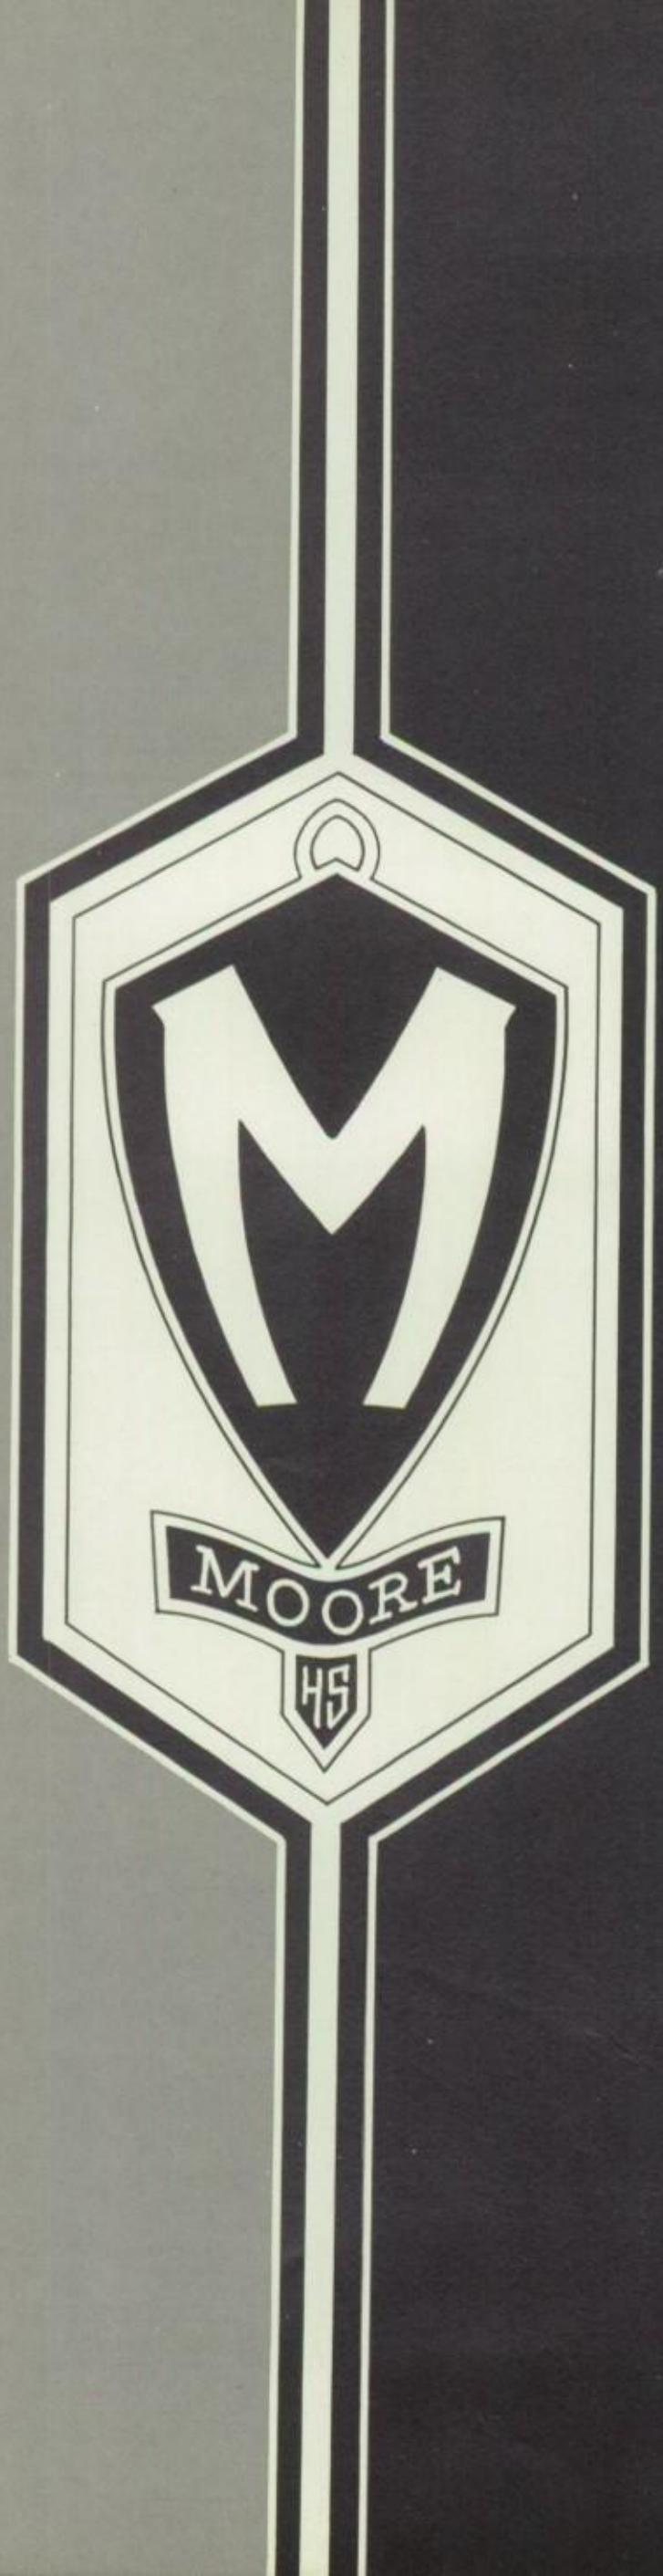
We Dedicate . . . . . .

The 1964 - 65 Timekeeper to the belief that our future years will be pleasant and prosperous because of what we have learned from our experiences at Moore High School. In or out of class, our school has prepared us to make our lives and the lives of those around us happier and more beneficial.



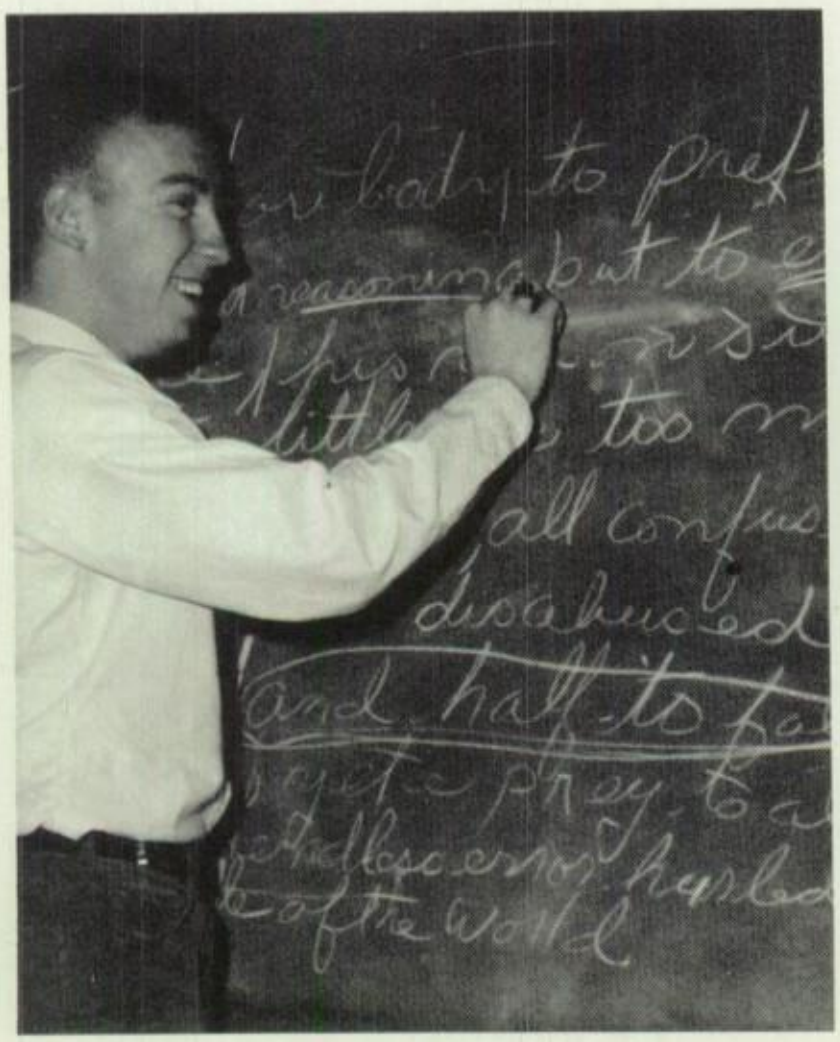
Features

We Learn to Study

Shorthand practice in dictation and transcription will enable these students, Judy Rowland and Shelia Haun, to increase their speed and accuracy.

The Business Machines course is provided to encourage and ai students who will enter the business field. Senior, Linda Schroe der, is doing her daily assignment on the Rotary Calculator

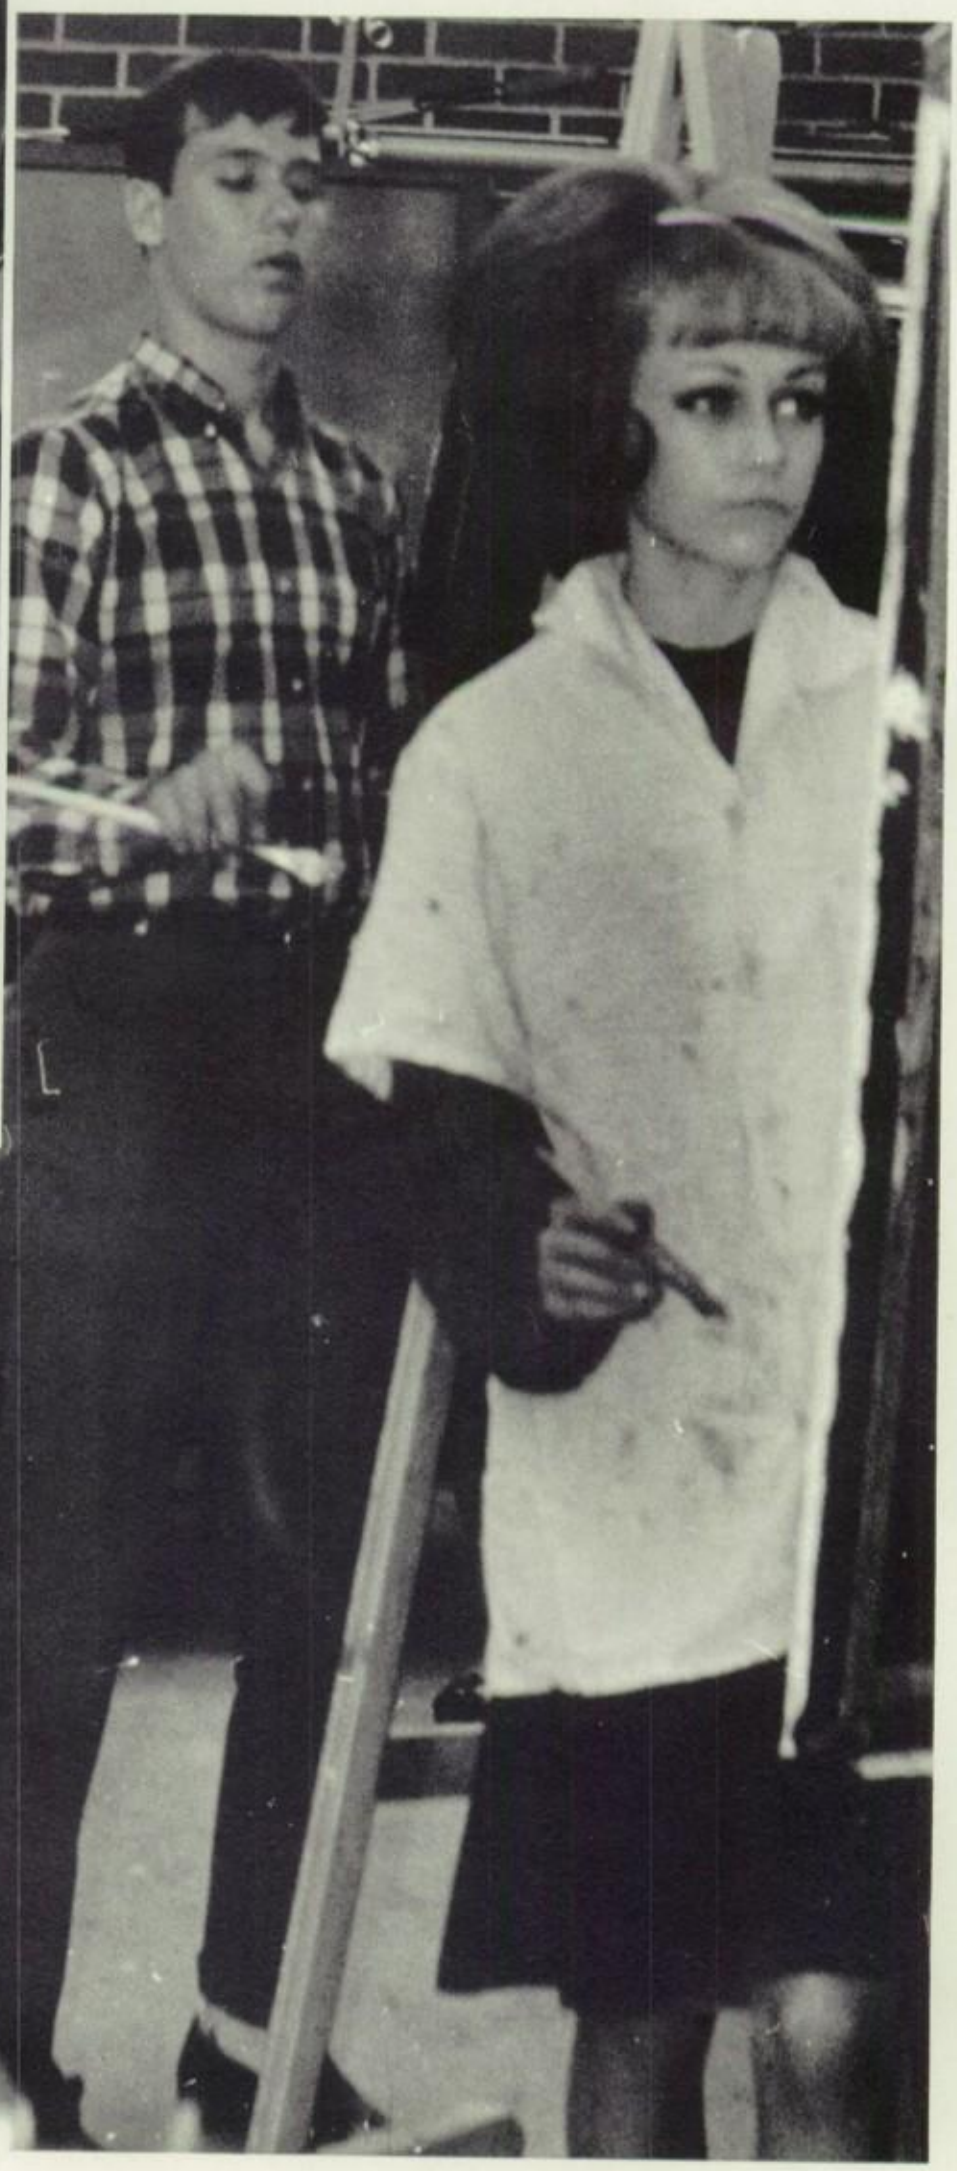
English classes place emphasis on world literature in the sophomore year, American literature in the junior year and English literature in the senior year. Carroll Wilson, Senior, points out examples of antithesis.



and Study to Learn

French, Spanish or Latin classes listen to the lab tapes daily. Spanish student, Linda Sims, concentrates as the speaker gives instructions for the next exercise.

The newly instituted Arts and Crafts class is a favorite among MHS students. By using individual interpretation, these students, Tom Barry and Judy Sutton, relate their ideals and skills to the canvas.



A yearbook is an important public relations tool. Judy Cummins, Gail Bailey, Mary Seamans, and Regina Anderson compare yearbooks from other schools with the plans for the 1965 TIMEKEEPER.

Mrs. Clay takes time out of her busy schedule to talk to an interested parent.

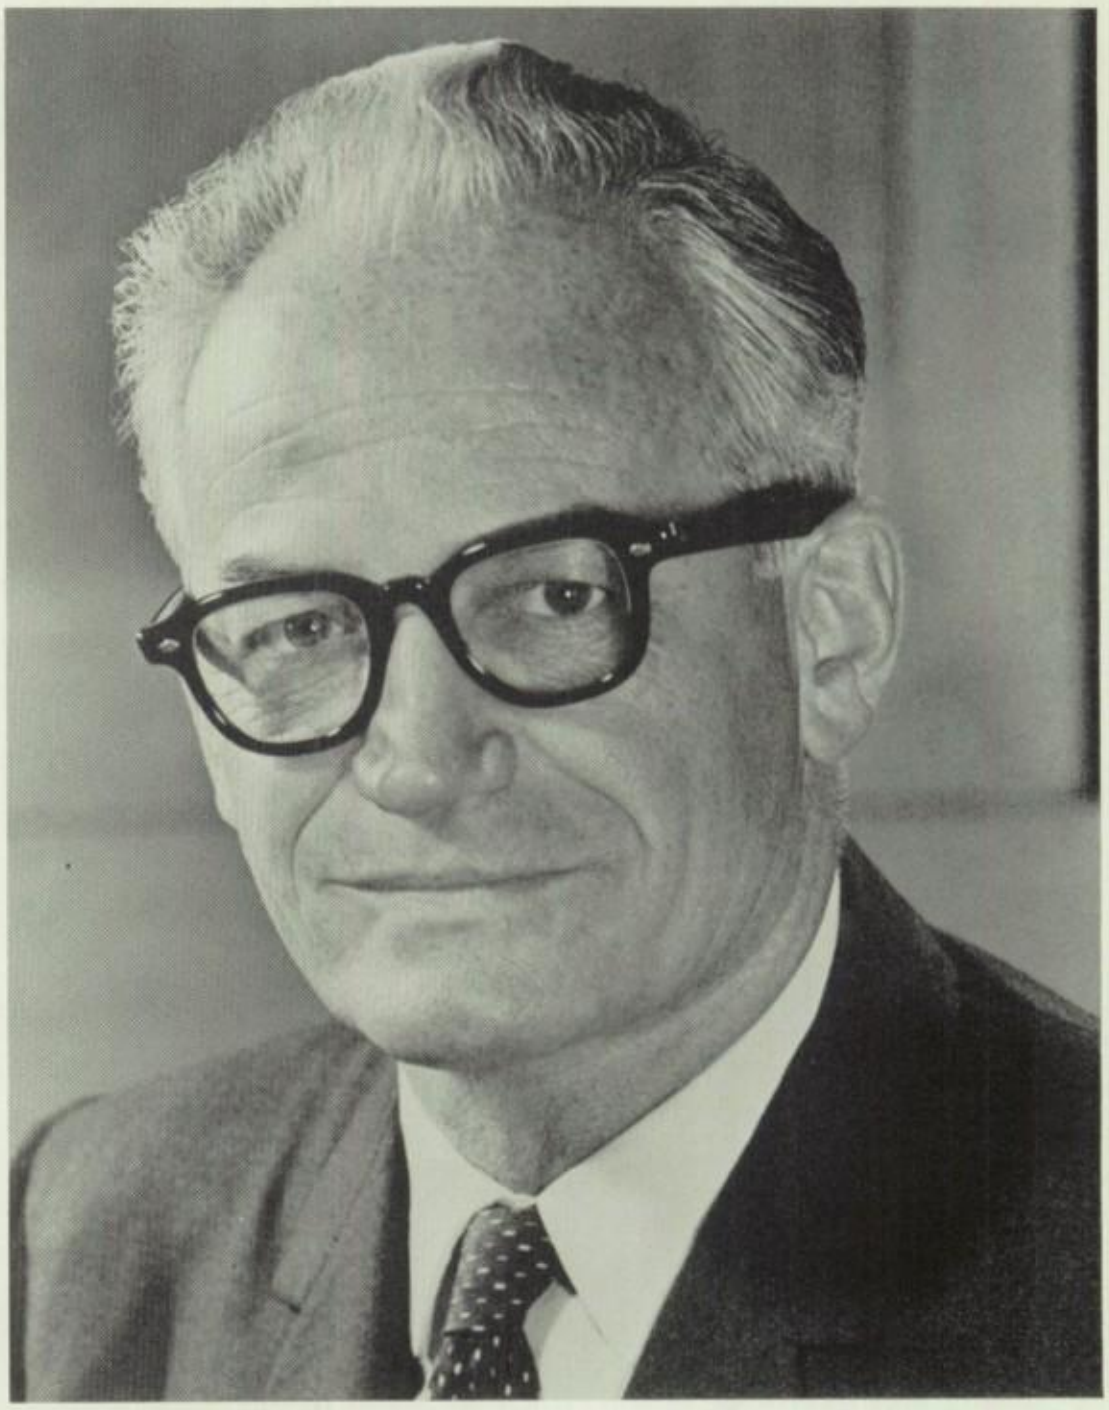
As the 1964 election rolled around, each of the opponents, Barry Goldwater, Republican from Arizona, and Lyndon Johnson, Democrat from Texas, traveled many miles to encourage voters that he was most qualified for the supreme office of President of the United States.

Mr. Goldwater's running mate was William Miller from New York, and Hubert Humphrey from Minnesota shared the ticket with Mr. Johnson.

On the state level, Republican Bud Wilkinson and Democrat Fred Harris competed for the office of United States Senator.

The day before the election, Moore High School students participated in mock campaigns and elections.

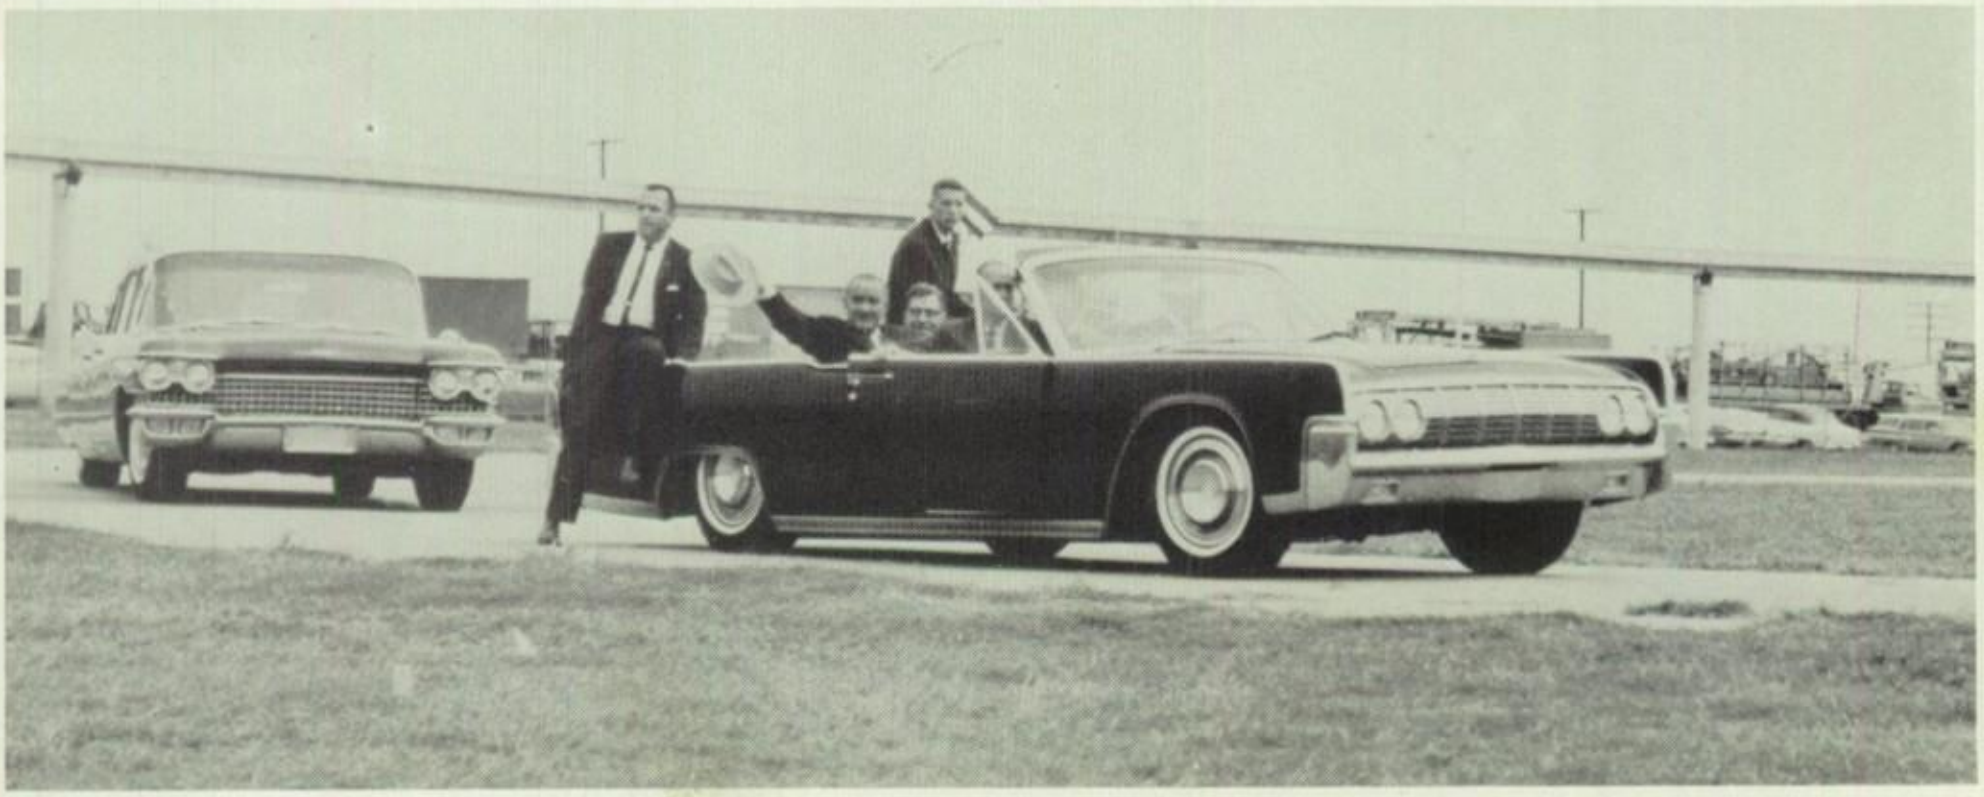
When the final results of the real election came in, Johnson and Humphrey won the two major positions in our government, while Fred Harris won the state contest for United States Senator.



Candidate Barry Goldwater paid a brief visit to Oklahoma and spoke in Tulsa.

From National to Local

Lyndon Johnson waves his greeting to the Oklahomans who were gathered at the State Fairgrounds to hear him speak.



VIP's Are on the Spot

Larry Jones, alternate, sees off Girls' and Boys' State delegates Cathy Rose, Cathryn Kovaciny, and Ronnie Keith.

Giving last minute touches is Susan Gossett, 1964 district DeMolay Sweetheart, to Carol Boyd, 1965 local sweetheart.

Student Council Pres. Bob Gilmore presents Mr. Robert Vance with the Outstanding Teacher Award.

The first semester Walk Proud VIP's from the school newspaper are Janet Bookout, Ronnie Keith, Marilyn Landers, Jim Reser, Kathryn Bailey, Joe Craig, Pat Grove, Les Graham, Linda Miller, Bob Gilmore, and Sara Mitchell.

Samme Taylor was selected to sing in the All-State Chorus.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

To handle the business of the school is the primary purpose of the Board of Education. Every community has educational problems of some kind and the effectiveness with which these are met depend almost entirely upon this governing board.

These five dedicated men have planned activities and functions for the school and carried them out successfully this past year.

Superintendent

Dr. Leslie Fisher

Dr. Leslie Fisher, Superintendent of Moore High School, is well-known among the students and faculty of our school. It is his duty to supervise the school board, and see that the plans of the board are realized. Dr. Fisher has been a great inspiration and and example to the other members of our faculty.

Dr. Fisher is not only interested in the education of the students of MHS but also in furthering his own. He received his doctorate from the University of Oklahoma on January 21, 1963. He feels a teacher is like a bicycle: if it does not go forward it will fall over. Teachers must always be working toward continuing to learn.

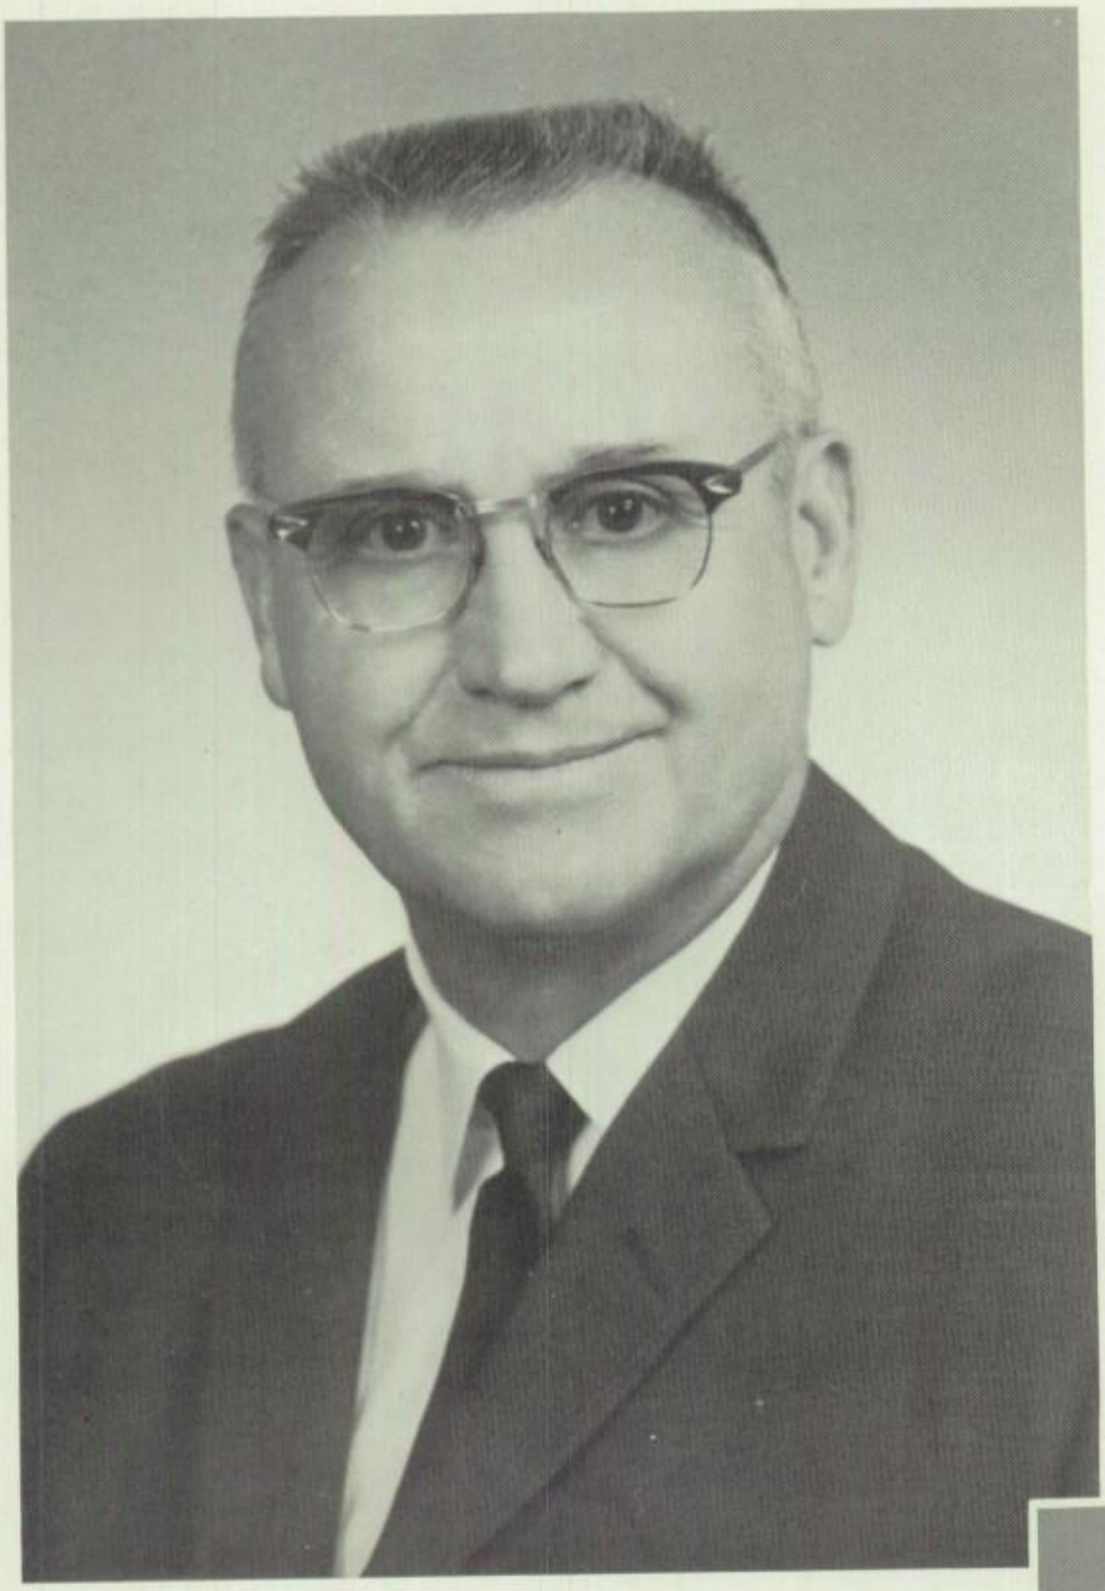
Assistant Superintendent

Mr. Douglas Fredericks

An administration's work may not prove pleasant, but much can be said of Mr. Douglas Frederick, our assistant superintendent, for maintaining his friendly and considerate manner in work such as this. The teachers at MHS consider him one of the most well-versed and intelligent of men, and he is known commonly by the students as a "good guy."

Progress

Mr. Fredericks and Dr. Fisher, Moore's VIPs, have been a great inspiration to the students and faculty.



Principal

Arvle A. Haire

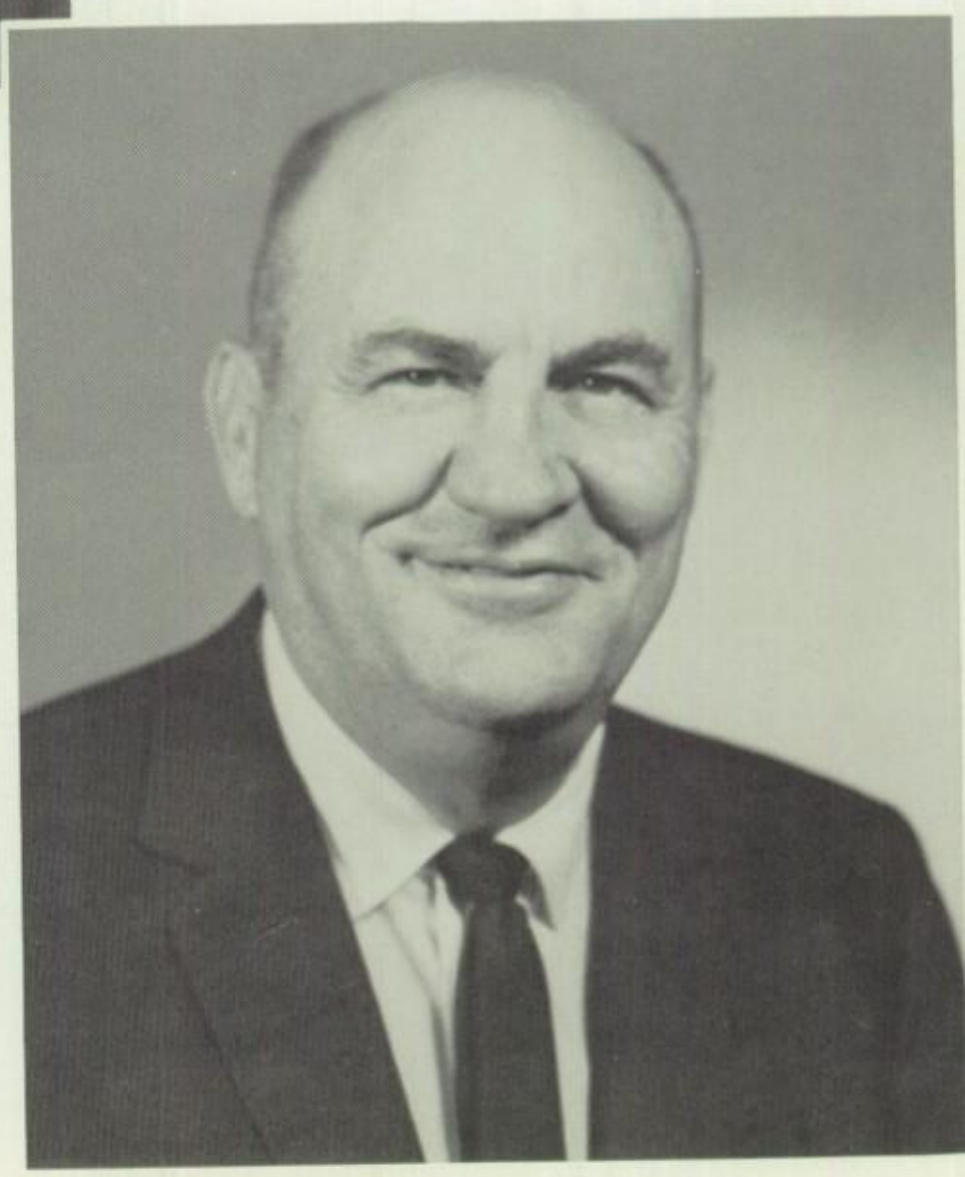
Twenty-eight years of experience in school business has afforded Mr. Haire a deep insight into the problems and needs of students and teachers.

During Mr. Haire's second year as principal of Moore High School, he has proven his ability as a capable and tireless leader in his field.

Each year, he continues to widen his circle of friends, both for himself and for his school.

Assistant Principal

Merle Collins



The assistant principal of Moore High School, Mr. Merle Collins, has been at MHS for two years. Twenty-five years of teaching before joining our staff has made him acquainted with problems that arise during a normal school year.

Giving absentee slips, passes, information, and checking hall behavior are all duties worthy of recognition.

His fair discipline and consideration makes most MHS students confident in his judgement.

Teacher: One Who Teaches

What school is complete without its faculty, the teachers who unselfishly give their time and energy to us, the students? To be sure, the homework and other back-breaking work assigned to us by our faculty aren't always fully appreciated by all of us, as they should be. Yet when we look back on these years at Moore High School, we will clearly understand how helpful and worthwhile these hours of training have really been to us.

It is our faculty who teach us to teach ourselves, who present the material to us for our own assimilation, whose devotion to us and our good will make Moore High what it was originally founded to be, an institution to provide beneficial and comprehensive learning. To you, our teachers, we can only say "Thank You."

Mr. Taylor

After his first year at MHS, Mr. Jack Taylor has proved his outstanding ability to guide and understand the problems of youth. His is a job which requires tact, understanding, and vision. Mr. Taylor has fulfilled these responsibilities and has gained the trust and thanks of Moore High School students.

Georgiana Wright

Janelle Spencer
Margaret Steffens

When anyone enters the office at Moore Senior High, he is usually not greeted by Mr. Haire, Mr. Collins, or Mr. Taylor, but by one of the office staff. If there is a conflict in the schedule of a student, if someone needs a thumb tack, scotch tape, or information, one of these well-known women will help. In spite of their busy schedules, our office staff always finds time to help the troubled student.

School Employees

Every day the cafeteria staff, custodians, and bus drivers lend their time and efforts without really being appreciated. But what would we do without these behind-the-scene people? Would we appreciate a school with trash and dirt on the floors? Would you be able to last from eight to four by just getting a Coke and candy bar at noon? And how about getting to school? Not everyone has a car and most of our parents are off to work before we even start for school. Maybe we should take a look at these people and see where Moore School would be without them.

Our World of Seniors

It's a world of laughter;
It's a world of fun;
It's a world of study,
And of work half done.

It's a world of teachers
Of all kinds.
With loads of patience
And wracked minds.

It's a world of students-
Loud mouths and closed ears.
It's a world of demerits
That we got through the year.

It's a world of clubs
To take up the time,
To interrupt the classes
Both yours and mine.

It's a world of sports
Of every kind.
For boys and girls
With absent minds.

It's a world of progress,
And world so dear.
We'll treasure these memories
For many a year.

We have just completed a year filled with problems and fulfilled goals. Our experiences as Juniors have made us willing and able to help next year's Juniors with the many problems they are sure to encounter. We faced the task of raising money to pay for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. It proved no real problem, however, as everyone pitched in and helped work in the concession stand at the football games. Along with other money raising ideas we soon reached our goal.

The height of the social season was the traditional Junior-Senior banquet, at which our class honored the Seniors. It was an occasion enjoyed by all. Now as we draw near to the close of the year, we look forward to the excitement and responsibility of our Senior year at Moore High.

Sophomore

In their first year in high school, this year's Sophomores proved they are no longer junior high students. They have taken an active part in all school activities, and at times, they showed up their upperclassmen. Although today they mainly follow, tomorrow they will lead with the true spirit of M.H.S. students, making this a better school for the community and nation.

OFFICERS--Susan Jack, sergeant-at-arms; Carol Adams, secretary; Betty Brandon, vice-president; and Jeanne Carter, President.

MHS is proud of her teams and lets them know it through the efforts of the Pep Club. This year the club has held pep assemblies, decorated the goal posts for all home games, made and displayed posters to boost school support, sold ribbons, and sold mums for the homecoming.

The club's main projects were the sponsoring of homecoming activities and the selection of their Lionette Sweetheart and Buddy.

Contests and Programs

Candy sales at noon and a bean supper made approximately $140 to help pay entrance fees for students entering speech contests and to buy necessary speech equipment. The Speech Club takes an active part in state contests, and participated in the Class A Invitational Tournaments at Bethany in December, at Chickasha on January 30, at Ada February 18 and 19, and at Edmond February 26 and 27. They also took part in the Oklahoma regionals March 12-13. The various events in which they participated include extemporaneous, duet acting, original oratory, humorous and dramatic interpretation, and debate.

Roar Staff Scrambles for News

"Unique" aptly describes THE LION'S ROAR. It is one of the few offset papers in the state with the entire printing process done in one room. Room 10 is the headquarters for the "J" Class. In that room, the reporters write their articles, the editors edit it, and the page editors spend many after hours actually putting the paper in order. THE LION'S ROAR is typed on a Vari-Typer machine which automatically evens the right margin. The headlines are printed on the Head-Liner, and except for one day when the pages are sent out to print pictures, the paper does not leave the room until it is ready for sale.

Editor-in-chief of THE LION'S ROAR is Kathryn Bailey, who is assisted by Pat Winfrey and Terry Fritts. Mrs. Bennie Raine is the staff sponsor.

The Student Voice Acts

The Student Council acts as a voice for the student body and trains students for responsibilities which citizens of a democratic state must bear. This is one of the most active organizations of our school. The members of the Student Council worked hard this year to make it one of the most rewarding years at MHS. In order to keep up to date on school activities, this organization meets every Tuesday morning before school.

The Student Council endeavors to make every effort to serve MHS and strives in all ways to make our school even greater!

FIRST ROW: L. Mathis, B. Grace, B. Rogers, D. Jones, D. Thornhill. SECOND ROW: J. Carter, K. Rose, S. Morris, K. Ward.

The students who have aided office personnel this year have done a job which is definitely deserving of mention and of merit. They have not only done small jobs which did not require special training, but they have also participated in programs which kept them in public view and in which they were considered representative of our school.

These students have repeatedly helped the school's administrative staff to convince visitors of Moore High School's tradition of friendliness and helpfulness.

The 1964-65 Library Club's goal was to be inspired and in turn be an inspiration to others to read more and better books.

Miss Ada Mantooth, club sponsor, has been librarian at MHS for five years. She devotes all her time and efforts to helping the students of this school.

The club participated this year in the Central Oklahoma Student Librarian Association. Members also took part in giving book reviews and making bulletin board arrangements, as well as doing their daily jobs in the library.

Members of FTA today are teachers of tomorrow's children. Each member of Future Teacher Association has expressed an interest in teaching in fields ranging from mathematics to primary education to teaching Sunday school. Each club member is given an opportunity during the year to experience actual classroom teaching in Moore schools.

Points are earned by teaching a class or by assisting teachers, such as grading papers. These future teachers play an important part in the advancement of education.

FHA Year

Moore High School's Homemakers of America, under the direction of Mrs. Erwin, strive to learn to live better today in order that their lives and those of their families may be better tomorrow.

O'quannah Wolfe is Vice-president of the Public Relations Committee in State FHA.

FHAers leaving to go to a district rally in Purcell are Sharon Boran, Shirley Shroyer, O'quannah Wolfe, Mary Gordon, Jackie Snook, Glenda Williams, Ramona Woodley, and Pam Brink.

FFA

The Moore FFA Chapter was organized to improve the ways of farming in the community. The members of the FFA, under the direction of Mr. Rucker strive to develop friendship with other boys, learn how to cooperate with others.

These boys live by the creed that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging. They know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, they cannot deny.

Bob O'Neil and his champion steer take Grand Champion at State and County fairs this year.

Club Strives to Learn

T&I is a vocational club including students from the welding, carpentry, cosmetology, and auto mechanics classes, explains Mr. Walter Taylor, T&I Sponsor. The T&I has its own council consisting of a delegate and alternate from each class. The Council plans coming activities and advises the club. It is similar to the Student Council.

The carpentry classes have accomplished many of their goals this year. They completed the new gym, barracks buildings (better known as "Little Fort Sill"), and the two restrooms for the junior high and grade school. The cosmetology opened their doors to the public. In this way, the students learned experience in shop management. The auto mechanic boys have learned how to overhaul cars as well as helping to work on the school buses.

Medical Careers

The Medical Careers Club under the supervision of Mrs. Duane Wallace and Mrs. Glenda Phelps strives to create and encourage a deeper interest in medical fields. These dedicated students have set their goals high by choosing a career in this field.

The club furthered its medical education this year by visiting research centers, having film presentations, reports, and various guest speakers. This year was highlighted by a trip to the O. U. Medical Center and to the Central State Hospital.

Key Club Sets Example

Samme Taylor, Sweetheart

The Key Club, sponsored by Kiwanis Club is a national organization of boys working for school and community improvement. High school boys working together, under the direction of adult Kiwanians, have received recognition and honor---Moore High School's Key Club is no less to be honored. These boys have set an example for all young people.

Clubs such as Key Club are an asset to any school, and Moore High School has benefited by its second year as a participant in the activities of the national Key Club.

This year's president is Bob Gilmore.

FIRST ROW: L. Vinson, Sgt. At Arms; L. Graham, Sec. & Rep.; G. Craig, Comm; Mr. McMakin. SECOND ROW: J. Owens, V. Pres.; E. Donaldson, Treas.; D. Hester, Comm.; L. Brown, Comm. NOT PICTURED: T. Jones, Pres.

The purpose of the Industrial Arts Club is to promote the interest of drafting in industry. Competition among the members of the local club and other clubs help to stimulate this interest.

This is the first time in six years Moore High has had an Industrial Arts Club.

The mechanical drawing department this year were given a chance to draw their own plans for carports, drive-ins, and service stations on a whiteprinter, which is similar to a blueprinter except that the print is blue on a white background.

We Were Victorious at

Weeks before school started, the boys began practicing long and hard hours for a better team.

School spirit, good sportsmanship, and character traits, important for us all, are developed via athletics at Moore High School. Football being perhaps the most gratifying sport in which students at Moore participate, offers boys the chance of learning sportsmanship, teamwork, coordination, and mental alertness. Its requirements are hard to meet, and its rewards are mainly intangible.

The 1964-65 Lions under the able leadership of Coaches Carmichael, Vance, and Holland, are examples of the worth of good teamwork. Early in the season Moore was tied for first place in the conference. This season was ended with a homecoming victory over Guthrie.

Enthusiasm & Vigor

Much hard work went into the making of this fine basketball season. The members of the team devoted much of their time to basketball from early November through February. The high scorers, ball handlers, and the whole team's great defensive ability produced fine performances throughout the entire season.

Girls' Basketball

The vitality of youth and the judgment of age are the necessary qualities for successful basketball players and successful persons. A participant in any sport must keep his character above reproach. This is possibly why the Lionette's team is made up of Moore High's most outstanding young women.

Victory Marks Girls'

Girl's athletic programs are few, and perhaps this is the reason for basketball's popularity at Moore. The members of this year's team gave one-hundred per cent of their ability all of the time. In any endeavor this is a great characteristic to display.

A strong defense and team spirit have been a winning combination for our successful team. The twin spirits of cooperation and sportsmanship were maintained at all times.

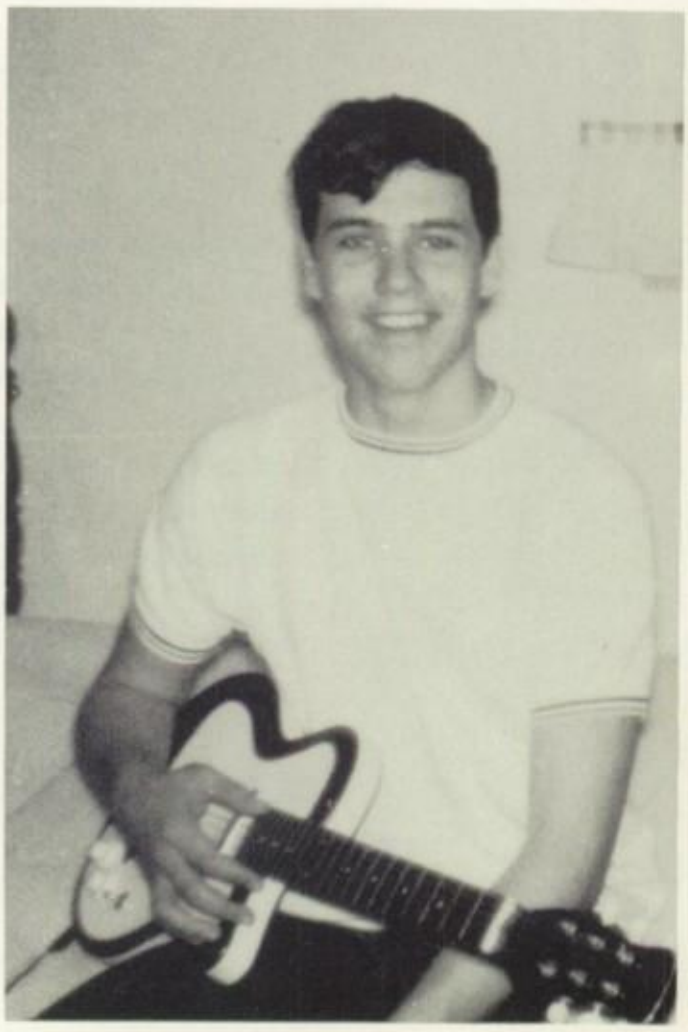
In Memoriam

The Student Body of Moore High School, with deepest respect, love, and admiration for our fellow classmates, Tim Barry, Richard Heuring, Earl Janeway, and Richard Phil Primm, dedicate this special section of the 1965 Timekeeper to their memory.

Tim Barry

Tim Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Barry, was an intelligent young man with a love for culture. He was talented in music and art as well as athletics. He and his younger brother, Jody, formed the folk singing "Roving Minstrels," a popular team much in demand in this area.

Tim was a happy-go-lucky fellow with a great gift of gab. As a little-leaguer he played against the Monterey Baseball Club, World Champs of Little League Baseball. Very active as a member of the Antioch Christian Church, he had a perfect attendance record of fourteen years in Sunday School.



Phil Primm

Phil Primm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Primm, was an easy-going sophomore whose greatest love was playing football. His friendliness and good nature made him a welcome member in any group. Besides being a two-year letterman in football, he spent his spare time tinkering with cars and building model airplanes. Phil was a member of the First Christian Church in Moore.

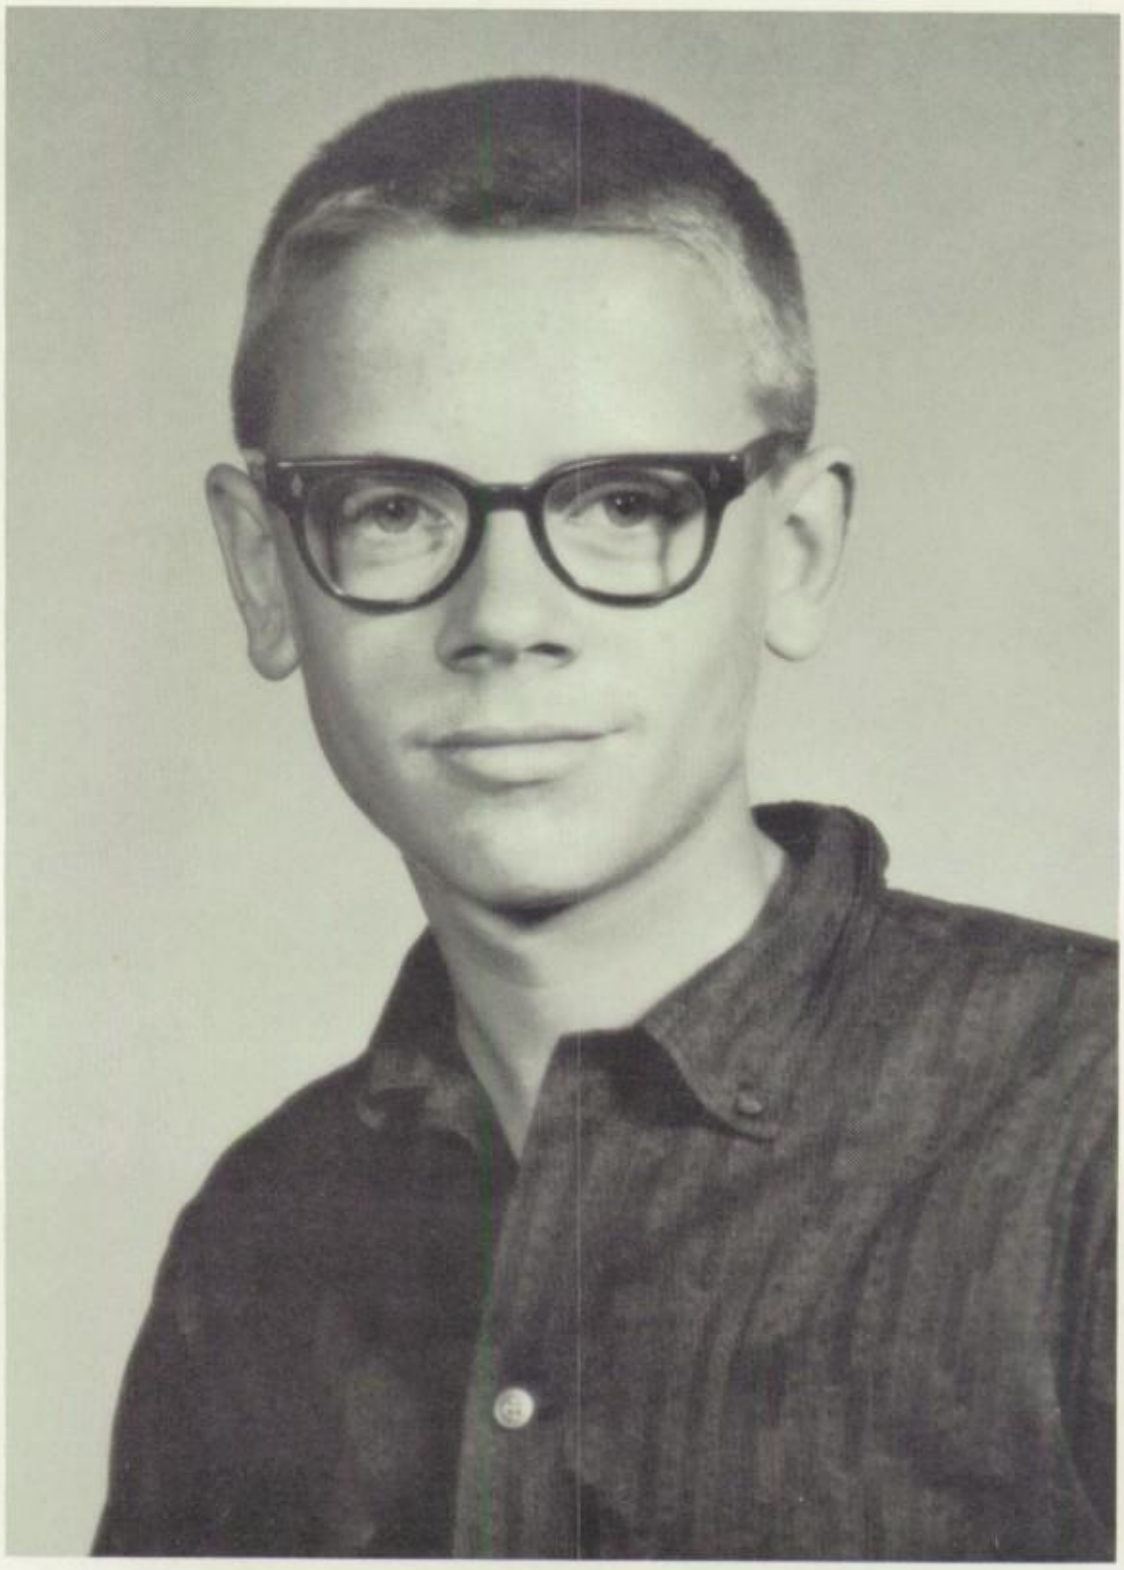
Richard Heuring

Few people could walk Moore High's halls without noticing this popular young man. His dynamic personality and sense of humor made him one of the favorite of all students in Moore.

He had a desire to participate in all sports and play like a real sportsman. His favorite sport was ocean surfing, but he was best known for his basketball ability. Richard received the "Outstanding Sportsman of the Year Award" in 1964 and was the Sophomore Annual King Attendant in 1965. Richard, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Heuring, Sr., attended the First Baptist Church in Moore.



Earl Janeway

Earl Janeway, a sophomore, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Janeway. He was a member of the Church of Christ, Junior High Drum Major, a member of the high school band, and a member of the DeMolays. Earl was a quiet friendly boy with a sense of humor. Possessing a mind filled with curiosity, he was interested in experimenting with things and in building model cars.

Phil Primm

Phil Primm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Primm, was an easy-going sophomore whose greatest love was playing football. His friendliness and good nature made him a welcome member in any group. Besides being a two-year letterman in football, he spent his spare time tinkering with cars and building model airplanes. Phil was a member of the First Christian Church in Moore.
